

Marset

Mercer M replacement glass

Technical details

|                            |                                                                                             |
|----------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Pays de fabrication |  Espagne |
| Fabricant           | Marset                                                                                      |
| Créateur            | Joan Gaspar                                                                                 |
| Créateur 2          | Javier M. Borrás                                                                            |
| matériel            | verre                                                                                       |

Description

The Marset Mercer M replacement glass is a spare part for the Mercer M table lamp from Marset. It has the shape of a glass cylinder with a diameter of 29 cm at the upper end and 18.6 cm as diameter at the lower end. This replacement glass is made of transparent hand-blown glass.